

Robin Renee Hodges, 57, of Littleton, MA, passed away peacefully in her home on March 13, 2021. She was the loving wife of Lawrence A. Bair.

Robin was born to John Hodges and Ellen (Crabb) Anderson on April 14, 1963 in Marion, Indiana. She graduated from Bedford High School in Temperance, MI in 1981 and received a Bachelor of Science degree in Biochemistry from the University of Georgia in 1985. She then received a Master of Science degree in Chemistry from Boston College in 1986. She married Lawrence Bair, her high school sweetheart, on August 1, 1985, and they lived together in Littleton, MA for their 35 years of marriage. Together they raised two wonderful children.

She leaves as her legacy her husband and two children: Lawrence Bair, of Littleton, MA, Jeffrey Bair, of West Boylston, MA, and Elizabeth (Bair) Herrin and her husband Chris, of Roswell, GA. She also leaves to cherish her memory, her mother and two siblings: Ellen (Crabb) Anderson and her husband Dwain, of Greensboro, GA, Johnna L. Hodges of Decatur, GA and John "Eric" Hodges and his wife Kathy of Sylvania, OH. She is additionally survived by her six nieces and nephews. She was sadly preceded in death by her father John L. Hodges and her sister Ellen Michelle "Chelee" Hodges.

Robin managed a lab at Schepens Eye Research Institute in Boston from January 1987 until her death and was passionate about both her work and her family. She loved to travel. Some of her favorite places being Botswana and Hawaii. You could often find her sipping a martini on Thursday nights while cheering on the Atlanta Braves or the Boston Red Sox. Her family and friends will remember her as both courageous and resilient, as well as loving and fun. She was loved beyond measure and will be greatly missed.

Due to Covid-19 concerns, in-person services for Robin will be private. The service will be live-streamed on Friday, March 19, 2021 at 11:00 am. To view Robin's memorial service please go to:
